THE PRESS EXCURSION. Durham--Haw River--Interesting Incidents and Speeches.

The excursion of the members of the Press Convention, the Board of Trade of Raleigh and other invited guests to Haw River, in Alamance county, on Thursday, was in every respect a most elegant and agreeable affair, and the participants, some hundred and fifty in number, will long remember the many courtesies tendered them and the magnificent and bountiful entertainments they enjoyed at the hands of the good people of Durham and Messrs. Holt & Moore at Haw River.

At 9:30 o'clock the excursion reached the enterprising man-ufacturing town of Durham, where we were received by the To-bacco Association and the citizens and a cordial welcome extended us by Mr. Tomlinson, Maj. Engelhard, on the part of the Press, responded in one of the happiest efforts of his life, followed by Mr. John Nichols on the part of the Board of Trade. Refreshments, both for the temperate and intemperate, was partaken of and a visit made to some of the factories-time not permitting us to go through all of them, but when our party again embarked they bore ample evidence of the places they had visited, as they were heavily ladened with both smoking and chewing tobacco of different brands, which which had been forced upon them at the hands of the manufacturers.

Durham is one of the most enterprising places in the country; its tobacco trade is becoming a power, its brands being known in every portion of the smoking world, and evidence of thrift, energy and pluck are to be seen on every hand. Some idea of the business done can be had when we say that the amount of revenue paid into the United States Treasury from its tobacco manufactories foots up nearly $400,000 per annum. Something over 300,000 pounds of smoking tobacco alone was put up in the town last month. It contemplates soon having a cotton factory also. Some 2,000 bales of cotton have been shipped from this point the present sea-son, when it will be remembered that but a few short years ago Durham was only a small depot, with no trade to support it, the great advantages of establishing manufactories in our midst can be easily seen.

GRANITE MILLS AND HAW RIVER. River, the seat of the Granite Mills, the property of Messrs. Holt & Moore, and the residence of Col. T. M. Holt, the President of the N. C. Agricultural Society, whose special guest we were for the day. The party disembarked and were escorted into a lovely yard just across the river from the mills. Beneath the shade of the trees adorning the yard, we were welcomed to Haw River by Col. Holt, who requested Col. I. J. Young to represent him on the occasion Col. Young executed his allotted duty in a most satisfactory manner, extending the hospitalities of his host to the Press, the Board of Trade of Raleigh, and the accompanying invited guests.

He was responded to by Capt. C. B. Denson, of the State Agricultural Journal, on the part of the Press, and by Mr. Nichols from the Board of Without meaning to be invidious as to the other speakers of the day, for had we space we would like to give all the speeches entire, we reproduce Capt. Denson's remarks in full, believing that they will be read with peculiar interest, owing to the beautiful and expressive manner in which his ideas are clothed. Said the speaker:

Col. Holt, Col. Young and Gentlemen: Unable as I am to emulate the silvery eloquence of our honored President, in response to this most cordial welcome, may your humble speaker at least hope to catch the inspiration of the hour, spreadng with electric to ch from heart to heart at the mention of the work here performed, for the blessing of North Carolina.

We have been eloquently reminded that we stand on classic ground. Upon this soil where the first struggles for the personal we stand on classic ground. Cpoint in some where the first struggles fo the personal rights and civil liberty that have come down to us from our fathers. Sir, I rejoice to know that as the children of Alsmance were first in the conflicts which ushered in the e a of independence, so soon to complete a hundred revolving years, I am proud to award to the sons of Alamance the foremost polition in the new struggle which North Carolina is making for her ancient prosperity. Here is the natural cradle of that Hercules who is to roll onward the care of Carolina's fortunes, and vard the car of Carolina's fortunes and ward the car of Carolina's fortunes and her glory!

Allalong the grand domain of the Union, from the granite hills of New Hampshire to the region of our own romantic Cherokee, the Appalachian chain lifts its lofty crest to heaven. To the east, spread the plains devoted to the numberless labors of agriculture; beyond the rocky bristling guard lie the green plateaux of our mountien land, holding in their bosom the priceless jewels of a mineral wealth unsurpassed in the world.

But ever and anon there breaks through

But ever and anon there breaks through these rocky barriers, a silver stream course-ing its way to the ocean, and lingering by the way to convert the rich gifts of the lowland into those tissues of sterling merit and fairy grace, which white-winged commerce shall bear to farthest bounds. It is here, sir, as we witness in the beauti-ful spectacle before us that the Saxapahaw on its journey to lose itself in the noble Cape Fear, where kissing our beloved Wilmington, it falls at last into the embrace of the sea, it here stops a moment again and again to work out the salvation of North Carolina.

I need not enlarge upon the enormous ortance of the manufacturing interests which is an everlasting tradition to well nigh all mankind. It was to the active the enterprising the manufacturing, the commercial people of Athens she owes her imperishable renown.

Witness England's grand panorama of glory around the globe belted with her power—the heart of her life is the steam engine.

What has empowered broken and wounded France to pay the gigantic tribute to the victorious legions of Germany which has astonished the world but the unparalled their the manufacturing shifty and the marvellous energy and skill of that people? No country ever acquired wealth and dominion by the mere sale of the crude people? No country ever acquired wealth and dominion by the mere sale of the crude products of its soil. I challenge a contradiction throughout the pages of history.

We, sir, have been blessed with the most wonderful treasury of resources ever vouchsafed to man. North Carolina is the only State of the Union which produces every source of wealth reckoned in the census of the United States. She has a flora which runs from the palmetto of Bald Head which some amothe you have cause to remember too well, through the wholegamut of botany, until we reach our own mountain peaks, the Alpine plants unknown even in the States of the North, and only met again when we have crossed the valley of the St. Lawrence. She has a variety, quality and quantity of minerals in her coffers which no other commonwealth can approach. In the county alone of Chatham next adjoining this, which I am proud to cail my home, she has a water power that statistics show to be greater than the whole combined water power of the State of Massachusetts.

God has given us a goodly land, ff we have the will and brain to do our work therein. And we must not forget what has already been done by the South. Behold the glorious Empire State of the Southland, noble old Georgia. See the miraculous prosperity of such cities as Columbus, where factory after factory is springing up, each built by the profits of its predecessor. Witness in a single town of Alabama, built of late in a wildenness, now manufacturing every day eleven thousand dollars worth of iron, and sending it forth to the marts of the world.

God has given us a goodly land, if we have suple-jack.

Nay, sir, come home to the magnificent

Nay, sir, come home to the magnificent work before us, on yonder hill, by this musical river that flows at our feet. Its record is historic. We have been feelingly told its beneficent work in the days "when we wore the gray," we know that it is the generous almoner of hundreds of families in the surrounding country, that its products are eagerly sought on the counters of Philadelphia and New York, and known and esteemed throughout the length and breadth of the land.

Brethren of the Press, perhaps it may not be inappropriate in an humble representative of the only paper in North Carolina devoted solely to her industr al interests, to invoke your cerdial sympathy for our manufactures. Let us second the efforts of our fellow-citizens to build anew the walls of wealth and prosperity. Let our hearts be warm and liberal when the topics which affect their welfare in all legislative halls, come before us for discussion. ics which affect their welfare in all legisla-tive halls, come before us for discussion.

Thank you, honored host, thank you dear friends, for this warm and brotherly welcome, and the magnificent banquet that lies before us. Brethren, may the columns of the press of North Carolina for all time to come be the glad record of the heroic achievements of our Napoleons of indus-try!

Roll on, ye spindles of Haw River, the ceaseless anthem which goes up to Providence, of a restored and re-awakened people! Roll on to time's remotest hour, with the sweet music and lips re-echo, North Cardina forever! olina forever!

A meeting of THE PRESS CONVENTION was then called by the President beneath the grove, a series of resolu-tions adopted, expression of thanks to the Messrs. Holt & Moore for the generous hospitality extended us, brief addresses made by Messrs. Polk, of the Ansonian, Skinner, of the Henderson Register, and Robinson, of the Cherokee Herald, when the President, Major Engelhard, declared the Convention adjourned sine die. DINNER was now announced, which was partaken of with a zest which had been aided by viands of a fluid character, which were profusely set forth. We don't remember to have ever seen a more sumptuous or elegant dinner than was spread before us on this occasion— a sufficiency to feed ten times our number, and yet full jus-tice was done it by the excursionists. Messrs. Holt & Moore must have thought the press gang good feeders. A more enlivening spectacle could not be found than during the dinner hour—a good feeling prevailed on every hand and bon mots flew rapidly, evidencing the fact that the party had not left their wits behind them. The picturesque scene presented by the surroundings, added much to the occasion-the green-swarded yard, shaded by a lovely grove, with the railroad just at hand, Haw River immediately at our feet, with the factory buildings of Messrs. Holt & Moore situated upon its opposite bank, and the goodly number of neat cottages dotting the hill beyond, the homes of the factory hands-the crowd gathered around the table and lounging upon the grass, making a scene worthy the touch of an artist.

After dinner A NUMBER OF TOASTS were drank and responded to, Messrs. McPheeters, Duffy, Skinner and others being called out. Among the toasts was the following: "Agriculture and Manufactories, Twin Sisters.—Like the Siamese twins, should one die the other cannot survive. May they be so fostered and appreciated in the old North State as to rank her among the first in these departments of wealth and prosperity.' The following toast, offered by Major Cameron, of Fayetteville, was drank in silence and uncovered: "The name of one of the noblest and most public spirited of the sons of old Orange; may his posterity in the future continue to emulate his virtues and walk in his footsteps as have his immediate descendants. All reverence and honor to the memory of Michael Holt, Sr., one of God Almighty's noblemen.'

The crowd next visited THE GRANITE MILLS, examining all the workings of this enterprising manufacturing estab-lishment, but want of space forbids us giving any description of these mills to-day, reserving this for another time.

Returing home, a brief stop was again made at Durham, where short speeches were made by Messrs. Roulhac and Greene. At 7:15 p. m., we reached Raleigh, all well pleased with their trip. We desire to return especial thanks to Messrs. Holt & Moore, to Col. T.

enjoyments of the day. Rufe Stanley's brass band accompanied us and furnished music throughout the day.

THE PROHIBITION QUESTION,-The question of prohibition came up before Judge Watts yesterday sitting at Chambers in the Mayor's Court room, under the suit instituted by the liquor dealers of the city, Messrs. Fuller and Ashe and Busbee appearing for the plaintiff, and Messrs. Battle & Son and Smith & Strong for the prohibitionists. The answer of the defendants was filed, and after some discussion the case was set for Wednesday, June 3d.

THE GRANDEST POW WOWS OF

NOS. 11 AND 12.

THE COURT HOUSE AGAINST METROPOLITAN HALL.

Exciting Scenes and Interesting Particulars,

The grandest pow-wows of the season came off yesterday at the Court House and Metropolitan Hall, Tim Lee at the former and Joe Holden at the latter. An explanation is due just here that our outside friends may understand why two tribes of of rad-icals should pow-wow on the same day. Timothy, the great, or Tim Lee, the present Sheriff of Wake county, and known as the most skillful and successful wire-workist in Wake county, discovered a short time since that he was numbered among those of his party that required to be "unloaded." Timothy was not willing to be unloaded and set to work to block the game of the unloaders, and while we do not charge that he formed, organized and packed his township Conventions, (because it is not our fight) yet he called a County Convention as Chairman of the Executive Committee of the county Republican Convention, to meet in this city on Friday the 15th inst., and his representatives were here.

Joshep W. Holden, the present Mayor of the city and the champion unloadist, claims that Timothy was not the proper person to call such a Convention, and issued a call himself as Chairman of the Executive Committee of the Republican party at Metropolitan Hall on the same day.

The two Conventions met at the same hour. Rufe Haywood's Oak City Band assisted in drawing a crowd at Metropolitan Hall. Tim Lee's working and chicanery secured a crowd at the Court House. The audience at both places were principally negroes, though a few whites mingled and participated at both

At Metropolitan Hall, Mr. Todd, a County Commissioner, presided over the meeting, and O'Neill, the newly elected Western Ward City Commissioner, acted as Secretary.

A number of speeches were made at this pow-wow. Gov. Caldwell descended from his high position as Governor of the State of North Carolina to take a hand in one of Wake county pow-wows. He delivered nimself of a few remarks in which he proclaimed against civil rights. He thought the negro had as many rights and privileges as he was enti tled to and gracefully smothered it all over by saying that the negro himself did not desire any more than was now accorded to him. We thought of the action of the negro element of his party in the last Leglative Assembly when they offered a resolution requesting our Senators and Representatives in Congress to use all means in their power to secure the passage of Sumner's civil rights bill, their peculiar unanimity in voting for it, and contrasted the same with the Governor's remarks. We could not see how it would fit in, but we very plainly saw that he placed himself in position with his Republican brethren of the West

n opposition to Sumner's civil rights Several others of the "faithful" came forward and spoke a piece, but as we had two pow-wows to attend we could not wait at Metropolitan Hall to hear them all out. As we left, Judge Watts responded to a call and appeared before the Convention to say his say. Being a candidate for the Republican nomination for Congress, of course what he said was in is own interest. We next proceeded to the Court House where Tim Lee's Convention was in full blast. Adjutant General J. C. Gorman was the Chairman and a colored man by the name of J. J.

Sawyer Secretary.
As we entered this bedlam we learned that Tim Lee had just been nominated for Sheriff, and nominations for Supreme Court Clerk were in order.

J. N. Bunting, Albert Magnin,

Jeems" H. Harris and some-body

else were nominated. Magnin desired to say something when a man in the audience made a motion that the candidates for the position be allowed a ten minutes say. The motion being adopted, Magnin proceeded. He spoke of the official career of his opponent Col. M. Holt, as President of the North | Bunting, charging him with fraud Carolina Agricultural Society, and and corruption in office. He proto the North Carolina Road, for the | duced several public documents to show that Bunting had not turned over to the County Treasurer the public school funds, &c., &c.

Judge Bunting of course replied. He said Magnin had been his clerk and he knew him to be a scoundrel An attempt was made here between the two contestants to get together but the valiant Timothy, aided by the sargeant at arms Mr. Weir, preserved the peace. After Bunting's speech the house called loudly for Harris. Jeems came forward but was met in the bar by Timothy who said that he would be d-d if Jim could speak in that Convention. Jeems said he was a free man and he would be d-dif he didn't speak. Tim said he must be put out. Harris swore in his wrath that Tim could'nt put him out. At this stage of the proceedings, matters became smartly mixed up, and very warm; the friends of both parties rushed to the bar, and a general row seemed inevitable. All was confusion, and the excitement of the intensest character. In vain did the Chairman rap on his stand with a hickory stick equal in size to that of Friday Jones'. The more he rapped, worse confounded was the confusion, and the more complicated the difficulty. We took a stand in the corner of the room, and while we can-not assert that blows passed, yet there was a "pulling and hauling" that made us believe and think that somebody got hurt, scratched or otherwise injured. Gen. Gorman continued to rap with his hickory, and after an half hour's hard work, minutes speech, and Harris certainly had the right to his time. Order was partially restored, and Harris came forward in the bar and proceeded to deliver himself of a characteristic speech. He went for Timothy with "gloves off," said he had packed this Convention against him, and and was not willing to recognize it as the voice of Wake county Republicans. He adverted to the fact that the opposition to him was on account of the color of his skin, and worned his colored bretheren of the consequences that would result from the antagonism that was now evident in the ranks of the "white trash" of the Republican party. Republican party.

Harris referred to the Convention then in session in Metropolitan Hall, which Mr. J. W. Holden claimed which Mr. J. W. Holden claimed to have the right to call. He was not in favor of either wing, but at Metropolitan Hall he could speak as long as he wished and not be prescribed. He was loudly applauded by the colored element, and at the conclusion of his speech was taken up bodily and carried on the shoulders of three men to Metropolitan Hall. As he entered the Hall, followed by at least two hundred of his sable brethren, the enthusiasm knew no bounds. The band played "The conquering hero comes," and Harriss amid the wildest applause ascended the stage and proceeded to speechify a second time. He told them of what he had gone through at the Courthouse, denounced Tim Lee, said he had $17,000 for the school fund of Wake county in his pocket and much more that we have not space sufficient to tell it.

ient to tell it The Court House pow-wow, however, proceeded with its business and nominated a ticket while the Metropolitan Hall-ers were barbecuing in Nash Square.

SAYS the Winston Sentinel: "It Is generally understood here that Mr. PURNELL, the Radical candidate for Public Instruction was a Ku Klux: in fact, there are persons in this town who say they were present and assisted in initiating him. Mr. Pool asked him the question if he was a member of the order and Mr. PUR-NELL did not answer it."

> THE promoters of the Philadelphia Centennial Exhibition have resolved that the work shall go on, whether Congress gives any assistance or not. An ordinance has been presented to the City Council of Philadelphia today to consolidate the State and city loans, of a million dollars each, and to provide for the expenditure of the money by a joint commission.

THE U. S. Senate is still considering the question of finance. On Wednesday, says a special to the Richmond Dispatch, an amendment was rejected by 37 to 16 requiring banks to keep one-third of the amount of gold coin which they receive from the Government as interest upon the bonds deposited to secure circulating notes, or public deposit, or permitting them to exchange such coin for bonds, upon which they could receive three per cent. interest, and the remaining two per cent. to be retained by the Secretary of the Treasury and applied to the redemption of the six per cent. five-twenty

THE Arkansas Legislature, now in session at the call of BAXTER to consider the difficulties existing in that State, have petitioned the President to place in their possession the State government house and to give them protection. It is claimed in Washington that the President will protect the Legislature, and our noon dispatches yesterday state that Attorney General WILLIAMS has given his opinion in favor of BAXTER.

WE trust the nominating Conventions in the State will put forth their best man for every position. Let the next Legislature be composed of good and true men-men that will have only the good of the State at heart and will act fully up to the duty that may be required at their hands. The general success of the Conservative party in the State in August depends in a great measure upon the individual strength of the candidates for the different positions, and the matter of selecting nominees cannot be too carefully considered.

THE Charlotte Observer gives she following inportant piece of information which we had overlooked or failed to obtain:

"From one of the Directors of the N. C. R. R. Company, we learn that at the meeting of the Board at Greensboro last Friday, a resolution was adopted instructing the President and Committee in charge of the bond question, to proceed as early as practicable to the work of preparing and issuing the new bonds, under the provisions of the amended char-The conference was an important one, and the determination was shown to push the work through as fast as possible. The Candidates for Superintendent of Public Instruction Meet in Discussion in Forsythe.

The Winston Sentinel of Thursday gives the following account of the discussion in that place on Tuesday between Messrs. Pool and PURNELL:

"The announcement had been made or some weeks that Mr. Thomas R. Purnell, the Radical candidate for Superintendent of Public Instruction, would address the citizens of this county on Tuesday last, and a great deal of boasting was indulged in by the political friends of this youthful sage of the Radical party. Col. Pool, the Conservative candi date, was not expected, but much to the surprise of the Republicans and the gratification of the Conservatives he dropped in on Tuesday morning, and an old time discussion took place in the afternoon, and when it was over every Conservative left the house with a broad grin on his countenance and the confident assurance that their cause was in good and able hands, and that their candidate would worhily fill the position for which he was nominated, while the Radicals felt their defeat keenly, and some of them very candidly acknowledged that Mr. Purnell was not equal to the occasion. We are well pleased in

A CORRESPONDENT of the Norfolk Landmark, writing from Hillsboro under recent date, gives the following concerning the suits commenced at the late term of Orange Court by the Board of Trustees of the State University to recover possession of the buildings and property of the University. Says the correspondent:

"A really important matter had its beginning at this term. Suits were instituted by the trustees of the University against Alex. is one once to have been proud of; the other from a vindictive hate, which it is hard to explain, but impossible to deny."

The Color Line Being Drawn. The great agony of the Second Congressional District on the part of the Rads culminated in Goldsboro on Thursday, as stated in our dispatches

MAN, the negro Senator from Warren, being nominated for Congress, defeating THOMAS on the 29th ballot. This will doubtless prove a bitter pill to the white Republicans of the State, who are compelled to swallow the dose no matter how disagreeable-the negro is drawing the color line, but the whites who are dependent upon them for support will be compelled to take a position on this question. Thomas has been absent from Washington for some time endeavoring to hold his power in his District, and his defeat is a sad blow to his white associates who must now bow to the new god the blacks of that District have set up. JOHN HYMAN, the nominee, is some thirty years of age, was born and raised in Warren county, was the property of FRANK HYMAN, of Norfolk, Va., but was sold just prior to the war to a gentleman in Alabamama, returning to Warren county to fifty per cent. of the new bank after the close of the war; and being notes issued, and insert in lieu of a man of some education, he was put "fifty" the words "twenty-five," thus forward by the negroes of the couning towards contraction one-half.

A long discussion followed, which bids fair to be continued for some time, as the part of the bill proposed to be stricken out is the pet scheme of the Committee.

This valuable remedy is gaining great negro elected to the Senate of North Carolina, which position he has ever since occupied. His political course has been of such a character as to give him no reputation, while there has been nothing in him to

He is not a man of much ability, and in the U.S. House of Representatives will only act as a figure-head and a voter. It is hard to tell how his nomination was obtained, other than upon the ground that the blacks were determined to where they had a majority of some seven thousand, and HYMAN was District. But what will be the course of the whites in that District who have been Republicans only for the purpose of using the negro, and not for any love they have for him. the memorial services in that city on Monday last, from which we are led to believe they were of the most imposing character. The Superior Court of Forsyth is in session this week, his Honor Judge Cloud presiding. The Salem Press says there are no cases of much importance on the docket. Miss Doctor Dimmock, a native of this State, and a graduate of the Lurick, Germany, Medical College, will be in attendance upon the State Medical Convention which meets in Charlotte on Tuesday next. Cabarrus county held its county Convention last Saturday. The following county nominations were

The Newbernian, which seems careful of the interests of the ancient burg in which it is situated, has, for the past three days, double leaded locals on the importance of "liming" or whitewashing all the shade trees in the town. The consequence is that the people took its advice, and a visitor to the city now would not recognize the old town.

The sentenced notorious John Allen Ketchy, now in prison at Salisbury and convicted of rape, has been respited till the 18th of June by his Excellency Gov. Caldwell. The application was gotten up and signed by the most prominent citizens of Rowan, Gen. Burton Craige heading the list. Ketchy's Council, Messrs. Craige & Craige, will reargue his case before the Supreme Court in June.

The Superior Court for Cumberland county will commence on the 18th instant, his Honor Judge Buxton presiding. There are 49 cases on the State docket, of which one is for murder, Thos. J. Bullard for the murder of Travis Bledsoe. On the civil docket there are 196 cases, of which seven are for divorces. The Eagle, from which we get the above information, might go a solid column of nonpareil on the last named

The Overflow and its Results.

Now that the river is falling levees begin to break with great rapidity. The great volume of the river's current upholds banks that are often underminded for great distances from the channel, and many an enclosure and broat field and delightful home, when the swollen stream reassumes its original proportions, will go down to be seen no more. Even now we hear of levees giving way that have stood the test of many a flood, and farms are at last overwhelmed, deemed exempt from every possibility of disaster. At James Rusk's residence, and at two places in front of Friars Point, the banks have given way, and a sea of water, as passengers on the steamer Cheek assert, deluge wide districts con-stituting the richest and most perfectly cultivated estates in the lowlands. Senator Alcorn's charming home, on the river shore, and his countless broad acres are beneath the sea like the lost continent Atlantis of which Plato tells. Wells dug anywhere in the lowlands between the hills that have walled in the Mississippi through countless ages, and between which it is constantly changing its restricted course, rise and fall with the river. Catfish, an old "in-landsea"-man tells, have been caught in wells twenty-four hours after they were dug, not nearer the river than ten miles. In other words, the Mississippi, either in the shape of countless streams, or percolating every-where through the alluvium and underflows as well as overflows the whole swamp, and the quantity of water that sweeps down this valley is incalculable. Two parallel ranges of mountains, and twenty-six States and Territories, are drained by the stupendous stream navigable, with its branches, for twenty-six thousand miles. And yet, for fear that the grain and bacon and cotton crops of this valley may have cheap access to the sea, the Federal Congress resorts to any subterfuge rather than give New Orleans direct access by means of a slackwater ship canal to the Gulf, Lessups could afford to cut a ship canal from the Mediterranean to the Red Sea at a cost of $76,000,000 and yet these twenty-six States and this unequalled valley must be content with devices which still subject the commerce of an empire to the extortions of the most remorseless body of plunderers that ever robbed men, society, cities or govern-ments. New Orleans towboats, and dredgeboats at the Balize, have cost the farmers of the west countless millions. One delusion at least is swept away by the great flood now subsiding. The country's wealth will no more be wasted on levees. Canals must be substituted. The process must be begun as a farmer would control a creek, by ditching at the lower end. The first canal dug should enable the Great Eastern to east auchor at Algiers, opposite New Orleans, and the next, turn the river into Lake Borgne. Plaquemine and LaFourche should be reopened, and Red river turned into the Atchafalaya. This process of diverting tributaries of the Mississippi should be continued until overflows be made impossible. Canals dug will give the country the cheapest conceivable agencies of transportation, and this valley speedily become the richest and most densely populated on the globe.—Memphis

FERTILIZERS. W HANN'S RAW BONE SUPER PHOSPHATE.

The unexampled success of this renowned manuer during many years, ha won for a reputation which few other fertilizers can claim. Its sales are very extensi in all parts of the country, especially in those parts of the South where cotton and corn are largely grown. So decided and positive have been its results on these important staples, that in many sections it is preferred to all other manures.

Whann's Raw Bone Super Phosphate

prompt and active in its effects. It starts the young plant vigorously, and by furnishing a steady supply of nutriment during the period of its growth, brings the crop to a healthy maturity in time to escape the ravages of early frosts. We offer this well-known fertilizer to our friends, confident that they will concur in the opinion of the leading planters of the South, that for Cotton and Corn it is unequalled.

FROM WASHINGTON.

Currency Bill—Specie in the Dim Distance—Free Banking the Order of the Day. WASHINGTON, May 15 .- The following carefully prepared statement of the meaning of the currency bill passed by the Senate, though no one seems to understand it, is telegraphed as the cloest approach to the solution of the riddle extant: The new Senate Currency Bill passed yesterday by that body, provides for free banking, releases the reserves in circulation, except five per cent. which is to be deposited in the treasury for purposes of redemption in United States notes, and requires reserves on deposits to be kept by each bank in its own vaults, a part of which reserve shall be one-fourth part of the coin received by it as interest on the bonds held as security by the United States Treasury. To prepare for specie payments the bill requires the retirement of greenbacks equal in amount to 25 per cent. of the new National bank currency issued, the retirement to begin within thirty days after the amount of \$1,000,000 of the National bank currency has been issued. The maximum amount of the United States notes is fixed at \$382,000,000, and the retirement shall be in reduction of that amount until it be reduced to \$300,000,000. The redemption section of the bill provides that on and after July, 1878, the grenbacks whenever presented in sums of \$100 on any multiple thereof, may be redeemed in coin or bonds, bearing $4\frac{1}{2}$ per cent. interest in coin at the option of the government, and it shall be compulsory on the Secretary of the Treasury to re-issue the notes exchanged for bonds. The best features in this bill are those which require the rereserves on deposits to be kept by the banks of different parts of the country in their own vaults instead of sending them off to New York to be loaned for speculative purposes in Wall Street, and which provides that a part of these resources shall be constituted of one fourth part of the coin received as interest on the bonds held by the government as security. These provisions may serve to strengthen the banks at home, and perhaps tend to keep up a better distribution of currency the volume of which, however, it seems inevitable must be increased if the bill becomes a law. Thus there is to be more or less of inflation under it, and the much talked of "elasticity" perhaps. The provision releasing the banks from the maintenance of a reserve on their deposits except 5 per cent. deposited in the Treasury for purposes of redemption is a liberal one for those institutions.

Official Opinion of the Arkansas Trouble-Baxter Recognized Governor by the President -Brook's Daughter Cantured-Murder and Outrages All Over the State.

WASHINGTON, May 15 .- Attorney General Williams has given an opinion in the Arkansas matters referred to him by the President. He says it would be disastrous to allow the proceedings by which Brooks obtained possession of the office to be drawn into a precedent. There is not a State in the Union in which they would not produce conflict and probably bloodshed; they cannot be upheld or justified upon any grounds and in his opinion grounds and in his opinion Elisha Baxter should be recognized as the lawful executive of the State of Arkansas. The President will to-day issue a proclamation in accordance with this opinion.

Executive session-Nothing interesting from the South. House.-Unimportant private bills occupied the day. No nominations. PROCLAMATION-Whereas, certain turbulent and disorderly persons pretending that Elisha Baxter, the present Executive of Arkansas, was not elected, and have combined together with force and arms to resist his authority as such Executive and other authorities of said State: and whereas, said Elisha Baxter has been declared duly elected by the General Assembly of said State, as provided in the Constitution thereof, and has for a long period been exercising the functions of said office, into which he was inducted according to the Constitution and laws of said State, and ought by its citizens to be considered as the lawful Executive thereof, and whereas it is provided in the Constitution of the United States that the United States shall protect every State in the Union on application of the Legislature or of the Executive when the Legislature cannot be convened against domestic violence. and whereas said Elisha Baxter, under section four of article four of the Constitution of the United States, and the laws passed in pursuance thereof has heretofore made application to me to protect said State and the citizens thereof against domestic violence, and whereas the General Assembly of the State convened in extra session at the Capitol thereof on the 17th instant, pursuant to a call made by said Elisha Baxter, and both houses thereof have passed a joint resolution also applying to me to protect the State against domestic violence, and whereas it is provided in the laws of the United States that in all cases of insurrection in any State it shall be lawful for the President of the United States on application of the legislature of such State or of the Executive when the legislature cannot be convened to employ such part of the land and naval forces as shall be judged necessary for the purpose of suppressing such insurrection, or causing the laws to be duly executed, and whereas it is required that whenever it may be necessary in the judgment of the President to use the military forces for the purpose aforesaid, he shall forthwith by proclamation command such insurgents to dispose and retire peaceably to their respective houses within a limited time.

Now, therefore, I Ulyses S. Grant,

President of the United States, do hereby make proclamation and command all turbulent and disorderly persons to dispose and retire peaceably to their respective abodes within ten days from this date, and hereafter to submit themselves to the lawful authority of said executive, and the other constituted authorities of said State. I invoke the aid and co-operation of all good citizens to uphold the law and preserve the public peace. In witness whereof I have nereunto set my hand and caused the seal of the United States to be affixed.
